I am a luxury yacht broker providing a discreet concierge service to a unique clientele of investors and owners of sport-fishing and pleasure vessels. I'm a lifetime boater, competitive fisherman, diver and 500-ton Master Captain. I grew up in South Florida, live on Clara Drive with my son Ben, and enjoy the water as my livelihood and passion. I've served on the boards of several homeowner associations near Miami as well as maritime associations, including Commodore of the Cocoplum Yacht Club, Coral Gables FL. I've served on the board of numerous south Florida, Caribbean, and international fishing tournaments where I organized the events and procured sponsorships to ensure the events were successful and fun. We are blessed to live in a small, friendly waterfront community with some of the best fishing in the world. I look forward to working with you to help improve our quality of life, family safety, and property values.
